Tips!

Haven't heard from Cullen Foundation in a while about a grant check, report, news, or cycle dates?

It may be due to:

There's an issue on Cullen's end

Your organization's main contact is no longer with your organization

Your main contact's email address changed

Your physical address changed

Your email has changed

General grants management tips a Grantee should consider:

1. Who does Cullen have as our organization's main contact in Foundant (grants management system), and for Cullen's newsletter and/or mailing list?

2. If we've moved or made a change in how we receive our mail, have we notified everyone we work with, including funders?

3. Who at my organization is receiving reminders on Report deadlines and is he/she the right person to be receiving them?

Other Important Reminders:

If you are a Cullen Grantee, you will always receive a grant check (yes, old school). We do not use ACH payments for grant payments. This means we will not ask you for your banking information (account number, routing number, or other confidential financial information).

When in doubt and/or if anything seems suspicious related to grant payments or exchanges of information, please call us directly by phone (NOT BY EMAIL) to confirm before you take any action.

No question is too small or insignificant - please call us if something seems off or outside our normal practices and procedures.
